Stanhope and Sherborne find areas of agreement

by Ariel White

The courting process has begun between the municipalities of Stanhope and Sherborne et al Townships. Although it is considered to be a "marriage of equals", it appears that there may also be a few sticking points along the way, such as the location of the municipal office and other pertinent details.

A public meeting was held at the Stanhope municipal office October 13, to begin discussion of the amalgamation process. Although the two councils have met on their own initiative to discuss the possibility, this meeting was based on a directive by County Council, to get the job done.

County Administrator Les Shepherd facilitated the meeting. He told the members of both councils, along with the dozen members of the public, that a proposal to complete this amalgamation must be prepared for the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing. This document does not have to go into the fine details of the amalgamation but does involve meeting a set of criteria laid out by the ministry. "There's a list of decisions you need to make in order to prepare a proposal," said Shepherd. He told the group that there was no need at this point to formally commit to anything, but rather use this opportunity to make general comments on the process. The proposal will have to be approved by both councils, as well as County Council, and be submitted to the ministry by the end of November.

Shepherd noted that this amalgamation has several aspects which work in the municipalities' favour. "There are certainly no financial drawbacks to amalgamation," he said. He noted that the two were relatively equal in the number of ratepayers and their tax rates were equal to within five decimal places. Neither township has any debt to speak of nor any outstanding debentures. As well, many of the practices in each municipality are similar in nature. It was brought up by the Sherborne delegates that Sherborne has a mere four per cent tax arrear situation, where Stanhope has considerably more.

The discussion moved to the councillors and all agreed that this process, albeit painful, was a sign of the times, and would have to be carried out as responsibly as possible.

Sherborne's Gary Sanderson was positive about

Meeting ponders the options

What to do with the Village Green?

by Jerry Grozelle

The first of what promises to be a series of meetings regarding Minden's Village Green was held on October 13 at the council chambers in Minden.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Deputy-Reeve Jerry Rome chaired the meeting in the absence of Reeve Jeanne Anthon. He asked the delegations to keep their presentations brief.

Roy Truchan, representing the Haliburton Highlands Arts Committee, outlined what his group would like to see done with the property.

Truchan started by noting that the Green had been used this past summer to showcase local artistic talents, with good success. He said the committee suggested the area would be a good place for another sculpture to complement the others in the area. An application has already been made through the Main Street Ontario Program.

Rome said that council would like to have some input regarding the subject or theme of any sculpture. It was also noted that if a sculpture were placed on the Village Green site, it would have to be situated in such a way that it didn't interfere with other uses.

Truchan suggested a wheelchair friendly path be constructed from the parking lot off Peck Street through the Green to Main Street. He also suggested that the path edges be landscaped.

"With the proper layout, it could accommodate everyone," he said.

Diane Welborn presented some ideas on behalf of her husband Keith, who was unable to attend the meeting.

She outlined some items from a list, including: a multi-use public space with a focus on youth; lighting; some seating; a roofed area and possibly a band shell; a stand-alone fountain with recirculating water; and three or four 8X10 foot spaces to be used as rental concession booths.

Welborn also suggested that the fountain be removable in the off season and be designed so the centre could be used as a base for the village's traditional Christmas tree. It was also suggested that the concession booths could be separated by vegetation as opposed to walls. She said low maintenance vegetation such as shrubbery would be a good choice.

Many ideas for Green

Diane Welborn also represented the interests of the Mural Committee. She suggested that the walls of both the CIBC and the building that houses What In Sam Hill would both be excellent locations for murals.

Rome explained that the owners of the two buildings would have to be approached since council has no authority to authorize their use for murals. CIBC officials were receptive to the idea in the past, it was noted, but management has changed a couple of times since the initial support was shown.

"We're always looking for new mural locations," Welborn said.

She said the Mural Committee has expressed an interest in assisting with the design and co-ordination of any work that is done on the site.

Pauline Plooard, representing the Minden Horticultural Society, explained that the Society would provide portable barrels for flowers, but it was not interested at this time in landscaping the entire area. She noted that the Society is already over-extended for the number of volunteers who are available.

She suggested the parking area be delineated very carefully to optimize the use of the available space.

Representing the Minden Sled Dog Derby, Jack Brezina appealed to the committee to ensure that space is available at the Green to provide a staging area for the annual Sled Dog Races. He pointed out that the new hospital location will probably require that Main Street in front of the Rockcliffe Hotel be kept open to allow the passage of emergency vehicles. In the past, Main Street from Peck to Newcastle has been closed to traffic, giving the racers a staging area.

He suggested that any structures that are placed on the Green should be portable, which would allow access for the Sled Dog Derby, the Timbersport Festival and other events.

On a personal note, Brezina said he would like the Green remain as a multi-use community area which is visually attractive. He agreed that a mural would enhance the appeal of the area.

Councillor Daryl Moore noted that there are already four uses for which the Green has traditionally been used - the Sled Dog Derby, the Timbersport Festival, the Highland Yard and the Christmas tree. Councillor Grant Plooard agreed that any modifications to the property should not interfere with these activities.

Truchan added that the area might be utilized as a site for a farmers' market, where residents could sell such locally produced items as maple syrup products.

"It is another thing that could draw people into the downtown core," he suggested.

Rome agreed that a farmers' market would be a good idea, whether it were situated there or in another location.

Truchan added that retractable awnings, attached to the adjacent buildings could be used to provide shade and shelter, subject to the approval of the building owners.

Rome explained that Wednesday's meeting was "just the beginning." He said more public input will be necessary before any decisions are made. Once plans are made, the next big step will be to raise the necessary funds.

The input from Wednesday's meeting will be discussed by council before another meeting date is set.

Dog killed in bear attack

A vicious attack has left Ministry of Natural Resources staff baffled and a Lutterworth resident without her longtime canine companion.

On a late September morning Gladys Wruth went outside to check on her dog, only to discover that it had been gruesomely attacked, apparently by a bear, and left for dead. "I have never been without a dog," said Wruth, who was extremely saddened by the whole incident.

After contacting the Ministry of Natural Resources, staff inspected the site and placed a bear trap on the property, with the hopes that the bear might return to the scene.

According to Bart Hilhorst, of the MNR, the bear has not reappeared. The whole scenario puzzles him, as he says although a bear could attack a dog, it was strange that it was not consumed entirely. Bear tracks were found around the dog house, which was actually moved during the attack.

Hilhorst said that although bear activity was high this summer, things have actually been quiet through September. Bears won't be a problem much longer, as they will be retiring for the winter months in hibernation until spring. "Hopefully we will have a better food source next year which will keep the bears off people's decks and out of their yards," the comparable aspects of the two municipalities. "We have the best in the entire county by any means," he said of the tax rates. He did however raise concerns about the fact that some ratepayers will be a sizeable distance away from the township office, regardless of where it would be located, and that this process was taking place when many of the seasonal residents were not present to participate.

A 'marriage' of equals

Stanhope councillor Tom Gardner noted that it was of benefit to all involved that the townships carried a similar weight. "You sort of have a marriage of equals here and I like the idea of not going somewhere where you get lost," said Gardner.

Les Shepherd reviewed the contents of the proposal. "A proposal can be quite straight forward. Even if it has a lot of detail the minister won't use it," said Shepherd.

The goals of the restructuring process, according to the ministry guidelines, include less government, a change in spending practices, efficient representation and local self reliance for services.

Keith MacAllister, a councillor from Sherborne, asked Shepherd if the single tier government option had ever been reviewed. Shepherd replied that the Clerk Treasurers association had created an extensive report in 1996, but that it had been abandoned. "We didn't really identify and dollar savings and it didn't really go anywhere. It was also reported that if Haliburton County were to become a single tier municipality, the cost of policing may increase by $200,000, due to a change in rate because of a smaller population base.

The proposal must contain several items: the date at which the amalgamation would be commenced; a description of the boundaries of the new municipality; how the representation would be divided; what changes, if any, would be made to the delivery of services; the financial system; by-law structure; a map; and a list of transitional issues.

Sherborne Councillor Gary Sanderson questioned the fact that Sherborne has an official plan something Stanhope lacks. Les Shepherd stated that the Sherborne plan could simply be adopted to cover the "Sherborne Ward" once the restructuring has taken place. When the plan is up for review, it could be disbanded, or created to cover Stanhope as well.

The issue of representation appeared to be one on which most of the politicians could agree. When broken down, Sherborne et al contains 44 per cent of the electorate in the amalgamated municipality and Stanhope has the remaining 56 per cent. Shepherd laid out several options for councillor representation, including a wardless system in which five members of council run at large, a two ward system in which two councillors represent each of the Stanhope and Sherborne wards and the Reeve is elected at large. In this scenario the Deputy Reeve would be chosen by council. As well, a five member council could be derived with one councillor representing each ward and one councillor, the Reeve and Deputy Reeve elected at large. A seven member council was also examined. The make up of council can be changed, at the council's discretion, but not until the following election.

After some debate over the workload the new council would face, the group voted unanimously to accept the scenario in which two councillors would represent each ward and the Reeve would represent the entire municipality.

Sherborne councillor Gary Sanderson took interest in the Stanhope municipal airport, and asked several questions on the operation of the facility. He joked that he would gladly trade the airport for Sherborne's sludge pit.

The issue of staffing was also discussed, as it was felt that this was an area that would concern the future of many people. The councillors requested that the clerks of both municipalities should work together and establish how staffing should be divided and what jobs will be required in the future.

The main issue of contention at the meeting was the final location of the restructured municipality's head office and the need for a satellite office, as well as what types of services would be available from either.

Keith MacAllister stated that he felt that up to this point no cost savings had even been discussed and that the decision should be made to have only one office. "I think that we are going to make the hard decisions and have one office," said MacAllister. "We're saving nothing."

Sherborne Reeve Don Shortreed stated that he did not have a problem with using the Stanhope office as the main office, as it was already established, but that residents of Oxtongue Lake would be better served through Dorset.

Garry Sanderson noted that the Dorset Recreation Centre has the facility to accommodate a municipal office. When Stanhope councillor Ann Barker replied that the Stanhope office was relatively new and under-utilized, Keith MacAllister stated that "This would make a nice office to rent out."

After some discussion, most councillors felt that a satellite office would be required for the by-law enforcement officer. The two townships already share one staff person for this job and he must travel throughout the municipalities for inspections and it was felt that he would require work space in two locations. Gary Sanderson stated that people from Oxtongue Lake would not travel to Stanhope for a building permit or other simple transactions.

A vote, supported by all members of Stanhope council, along with Sherborne Reeve Don Shortreed and Deputy Reeve Brian Lynch, favoured the Stanhope office as the main facility and Dorset location for a satellite office.

With ratepayers in mind, the participants of the meeting made the decision to set the dates for the next two meetings, in order to advertise well in advance. The next meeting will be held on October 28 at 7 p.m. and the third will be in Stanhope on November 10 at 10 a.m.

Making progress

It is encouraging to see the progress being made in the amalgamation talks among municipalities in Haliburton County. After what appeared to be troubling starts in the northwest and southeast, things appear to be advancing smoothly with wide areas of common ground being found. The talks in the southwest seemed to have had little trouble getting off the ground.

That is not to say there will not be some major issues to deal with before the process is complete. The councillors are particularly sensitive to the future of the staff members in each municipality and rightfully so. We believe, and it is a concept shared by many who are making the decisions around the consolidation, that the amalgamation can be accomplished without any job losses in the short-term. However, for the economies of scale to be effective, it will be necessary to redefine some positions and eliminate others as staff leave. There is no doubt that the transition to the larger units will be a challenging process. However, approached as a challenge to achieve greater efficiency, an attitude most around the tables have adopted, the consolidation should be accomplished with relative ease and minimal dislocation for anyone. Congratulations to those who have provided the guidance to this point.

Parents should have been contacted first

Editor:

I would like to add to last week's letter to the editor (Parents still feeling unwelcome at ASES) and start by saying "Way to Go" it is about time that someone spoke her mind about this educational facility. I too used to be proud to say that I had attended this school.

I do agree that the security issue of this school needed to be addressed, but I feel that all of the issues should be addressed not just one. I have had reason since this new policy has been enforced to go out onto the playground and into the office where I waited for several minutes before anyone came into the main office to help me. Now, had I been a stranger, I probably could have been through that school before anyone took notice of me. You can't convince me that by locking the doors while our children are in supervised classrooms and then letting them outside onto a sparsely supervised playground is doing anything to guarantee their safety, and all that threatening to have parents charged with trespassing is doing is sharpening our natural protective instinct, which in turn is going to make some of us fight this that much harder.

I feel that if we as parents had been contacted prior to this and been told about the new plans for the coming school year, and been allowed to give our input as to what was being done, instead of being told this is way it is going to be, like it or not, there would not be the degree of hostility that is being shown now.

In 3 years of attending this school. There has so far been only one teacher who has touched the life of our son, made school an enjoyable place to be, and made us feel that we were a part of his educational life.

If there were more people in power who cared as much as that grade one teacher, our school system would run much better.

School is supposed to be one of the best times of your life, sadly I don't see it happening with this one. I think that it is time that we as parents remember that these are our children, we brought them into this world, and we have rights too.

Mrs. Celina Thrasher, Minden.

Compassionate, competent attention

Editor:

Recently, there have been a few articles about the Stanhope Fire Department. I would like to add my opinion.

I have had first hand experience with our emergency crews, so I feel I can comment on the excellent care received, in an unexpected medical emergency.

My story begins:

Late evening August 9, 1999, my husband called for some attention for me. Within seven minutes the fire department was here. Right on their heels came the ambulance crew —

1. Off we went to Minden Hospital. Dr. Fiddler and staff assessed me.
2. Off we went to Peterborough Hospital for a CAT scan etc.
3. Off we go via helicopter to Toronto Western Hospital for emergency surgery for a ruptured aneurysm.

However this is not about me, (I'm OK), but about the excellent, compassionate, competent attention received — at all levels. The whole situation was handled so smoothly I was in Toronto before I knew it.

We hope we don't have to call on them again, but it would be with the greatest confidence that the best possible attention is available.

Minden and area may be short on doctors...we are not short on well trained, caring, knowledgeable people in any emergency.

Once again, thank you all and God Bless.

Gun owners since 1979 are grandfathered

Clarification on new rules for firearms

Editor:

In the October 4/99 article, "Outdoor association reviews year of change, under Firearms regulations" you have printed a common misperception about firearms Possession and Acquisition License requirements.

Firstly, the article correctly indicates that POLs (possession only licences) are available by simple application (and police check, etc.), to anyone who owned a firearm as of December 1, 1998. POLs will only be issued until January 1, 2001. They are an appropriate firearms licence for any person who is absolutely certain he/she will not purchase any additional firearms. Only FPALS will be available after January 1, 2001).

The news item indicates that to obtain a FPAL or PAL (firearms possession and acquisition licence) an owner must either take a (Canadian Firearms) safety course or pass a (CFSC) challenge test.

It needs to be noted that there are separate CFS courses for long guns and restricted firearms.

It is very important for your readers to be aware that the existing firearms legislation does not require many (the majority) of firearm owners to take safety courses or write challenge exams. This is in keeping with assurances from former federal Liberal Justice Minister A. Rock that experienced firearm owners would be "grandfathered" from any future CFSC requirements. There is provision for this in Section 7(4)(a) of the Firearms Act (FA). (Also referred to as Schedule 39, Part III of the Criminal Code of Canada).

Section 17 of the FA Regulations specifies that anyone who has continuously owned firearms since January 1, 1979 can be granted a FPAL through an exemption or alternate certification process. This alternate certification is available to any experienced Ontario firearm owner via the Chief Firearms Officer (CFO). The criteria are described in the FA Regulations, Section 18(a)(i)(ii)(iii) and (b) can be met with little difficulty by any experienced firearm owner. This certification process (grandfathering) is applicable for all classes of firearms ownership and use.

All that is necessary is for firearm owners to submit a letter with their FPAL application indicating that they are requesting alternate certification as per Section 7(4)(a) of the Firearms Act. No Canadian Firearms Safety Course exam results are necessary for these "experienced" firearm owners.

You do not need to be a police, conservation officer or any other kind of public official to qualify for this exemption. Simply include a statement demonstrating that you meet the "green CFSC graduate" knowledge and skill criteria. Be advised, you will undergo the normal police reference check by a local Firearms Officer.

This is the law!!!

Name that place

Only one suggestion to consider this week for the name of the proposed amalgamated municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden, Lutterworth and Snowdon. This one arrived anonymously by email:

• "How about the Municipality of Minden," the reader suggested. He goes on to point out, "It's the best known of all the townships."

We are asking our readers to suggest a name for the new combined municipality. Send your suggestions to: Name That Place, c/o The Times, Box 97 Minden, Ontario K0M 2K0; or or fax to 705-286-4768 or email your suggestion to: editor@mindentimes.on.ca

A land of hope and promise

We Canucks are a quiet, mannerly bunch. We don't like to raise our voices or make an unseemly fuss. Until someone or something pushes our buttons. It can be a tiny thing. A hockey championship. A referendum.

Or a rustbucket ship full of illegal Chinese immigrants. The way talk show loudmouths have run with this puppy, you'd think we'd been invaded by teeming hordes of Asian terrorists bent on blowing up the Peace Tower, ravishing our womenfolk and using the Grey Cup for a urinal.

Tain't that big a deal, folks - just a few hundred desperately poor people, weak from bad food and seasickness who want to change their luck. And it's not like they're the first uninvited guests we've had to deal with. Illegal aliens have been flitting across Canada's porous borders for years.

Not that they're always good at it. Last year, a Sri Lankan human smuggling ring was uncovered through the cheat sheets they'd given their clients. The would-be immigrants were told to refer knowingly to "Block leader Lucian Bushart...; Prime Minister John Charafican"; and not to forget "Ontario Premair Mr. Mick Harries."

A Guyanese migrant was intercepted when she tried to finesse her way into the U.S. Professing to be a Canadian citizen, she airily informed the border agents that she lived in a town "in the Province of Montreal." Oh, really? Then she would know the capital of that ah, province?

"Certainly" she snapped. "The capital is Ontario."

One group of Chinese snakeheads assured its clients that they would easily slip through Canadian customs if they just adopted the 'Singapore look'. These gate crashers pretended to be prosperous Singapore business honchos. They flew into Vancouver first-class, wearing Tommy Hilfiger duds, Nike running shoes and toting glossy copies of Vanity Fair under their arms. One thing they couldn't fake was the fluency in English most Singapore business people possess. As a matter of fact, these folks didn't speak a word of English - and their French was equally non-existent.

The most audacious attempt to crash our border? That honour probably goes to a flock of prostitutes from the Dominican Republic who showed up at the customs office in Port au Prince...dressed as nuns.

Maybe it was the perfume, or perhaps the tell-tale clickety clack of spiked heels under those habits, but they were denied entry. The fake nuns disappeared into a washroom and, as the customs report dryly notes: "reappeared shortly thereafter dressed in their normal work clothes that amply advertised their actual profession."

I can't get too angry at people willing to risk their lives and mortgage a decade or so of their futures for a chance at a new life on this side of the waters. It's not as if it's a new story.

Heck, if we could go back about a hundred and twenty years or so, I'd take you belowdecks on a tatter-sailed, clapped out frigate listing at anchor in Montreal harbour. If you could stand the stink, I'd lead you to a couple of scurvy-looking bums lying under a filthy blanket near the back of the hold. Look at them. Them and their rag-tag family - two squalling brats - and the sunken-cheeked wife looks like she's about to whelp again. They're dirty, malnourished, probably lice-ridden. Five'll get you ten they both sign their names with an X. Haven't got a half-penny to their name. Spent it all on passage to Canada. Is Canada Customs going to let these losers in?

Sure hope so. They're my great grandparents.

GO RED HAWKS!!

T. A. Stewart clips Hawks 20-3

Tim Davies' vocal cords got a workout Friday. The coach of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Red Hawks football team paced the sideline of the HHSS field barking instructions to his team. But, in spite of his attempts to turn the game around, the Red Hawks weren't in the groove.

When it was over, the Red Hawks were on the short end of a 20-3 score against the visiting Thomas A. Stewart Grifins from Peterborough. Davies made no excuses for his team losing a game it should have won. "We didn't play well," he said. "I don't think the boys were overly impressed with their own performance. We should have been competitive, but a lack of concentration and intensity didn't help."

A series of five penalties showed the lack of concentration. "The mental mistakes hurt us," Davies said.

Although the Red Hawks were first to put points on the scoresheet, the early 16-yard field goal by Momme Juergensen would be Hal High's only points. The Red Hawks moved the ball well at Senior coach Tim Davies briefs the team prior to the start of the second half of Friday afternoon's game. The Red Hawks were defeated by Thomas A. Stewart high school of Peterborough, 20-3. Assistant coach Gary Broham helped on the sidelines despite the crutches used to support an injured knee.

Minden OMHA Atoms win opening games

The 1999-2000 season opened on the road on October 7 for the OHMA Atoms when they squared off against the perennial powerhouse Newcastle squad.

The first period started off with lots of fast skating and close checking on both sides. The game opened up in the latter half of the period when Minden scored with a Sherri Walker tap-in on a Travis Walker breakaway rebound.

Newcastle turned up the heat and goaltender Mike Lennox made a series of breakaway saves before Newcastle evened up the match with a shot that careened crazily off a skate in the slot. Minden continued to put on the pressure with good scoring chances by Aaron Keaney and Cody Mills in the second period before the go-ahead goal was potted by Adam Googh, who converted a Travis Walker pass.

Newcastle kept up the heat with quick breakouts, but the defensive corps of Justin McKelvey, Zac Joanu, Matt Clements and Jon Petch kept the attackers at bay.

Things really got tense when Minden was assessed a five minute major penalty midway through the third period. Newcastle desperately sought the game-tying goal, and would have had one except for a fine kick save by goaltender David Muir late in the third.

Overall, Newcastle outshot Minden by a margin of 17-13, but the game ended on a winning note for Minden when curfew was called at 8:50 p.m.

A great way to start the year!

Minden 6-Cannington 1

Cannington travelled to Minden on October 9 and got a sudden, rude reception. Minden hammered 15 shots at the Cannington goaltender in the first period alone and led by 1 goal on a Smith marker assisted by Keaney and Sherri Walker.

Early in the second period Travis Walker scored on a scramble resulting from a McKelvey point shot. Petch also recorded an assist on that play. Keaney then scored the next goal on a nifty solo shorthanded effort.

Cannington notched their only goal of the game with a partially screened point shot that found the net.

Minden kept up the heat in the third period and scored three goals--two from Keaney, to give him his first hat trick of the season, and another from Cody Mills. Smith recorded another two assists, and additional single helpers went to Travis Walker, McKelvey and Petch.

Gavin Hicks took an impressive turn on defense, and Jordan Joanu played hard at both ends of the rink. The goaltenders, Lennox and Muir, had an easy game this time out facing only 10 shots while Minden fired a total of 44 at the opposing net.

Defeat T.A. Stewart 34-0

Junior Red Hawks keep streak alive

The Junior Red Hawks football team set the tone of the game early when they played host to the Thomas A. Stewart Griffins of Peterborough Friday. The Hal High squad scored two touchdowns in the first five minutes of the game on the way to a 34-0 romp over the Griffins.

"We were expecting a tough game," said coach Bruce Griffith. "They (the Griffins) are a big team. They beat Fenelon 24-7." But the Red Hawks weren't intimidated by their opponents, or impressed with their victory over the tough Falcons from Fenelon Falls Secondary School.

Jamie Doan led the HHSS offense with three touchdowns to his credit. Red Hawks tight end Joel Johnson added a TD on a passing play and Mike Guzik scored a TD on a defensive play.

Hal High kicker Ryan Hutson booted four converts. Linebacker/offensive guard Diego Rico, quarterback Adam Henry, tackle Adam Tomlinson and fullback/linebacker Garrett Pockett all had a good game.

"The whole team played well," Griffith said, adding that both he and assistant coach Derek Little are times, but the efforts went unrewarded on the scoresheet.

The Griffins scored their first touchdown on a screened pass. The convert attempt was blocked. The next two TDs were successfully converted. HHSS assistant coach Gary Brohman said quarterback Matt Reid made a couple of good passing plays to Mike Morissette and Greg Forgrave. He also centered out Cody Duda for his good running game.

Brohman said he considered Matt Reid the offensive player of the game for the Red Hawks and although the team didn't play well defensively, he gave credit to Graham Schakelaar for a good game. In their first five games of the season, the Senior Red Hawks have one win, three losses and a tie.

They have two home games this week, against the Fenelon Falls Falcons Tuesday and the I.E. Weldon Wildcats Friday.

"I'd say those games are must-win situations for us if we are to have any hope of making the playoffs," Davies said.

Curlers get their way, rocks to be removed Bumpers will be safer in the Minden Curling Club parking lot this winter. The club's request to Anson, Hindon and Minden council to remove some of the rocks from the parking lot has been taken into consideration and council has decided to honour the request.

The row of rocks that runs parallel to the curling club will remain, but the row dividing the lot will be removed, as will the row next to the shuffleboard court.

The reason for leaving the row parallel to the club is to define the emergency route.

More disabled parking

People with disabled parking permits will soon have more spaces available near the Minden Community Centre and Curling Club. More spaces will be designated between the curling club and community centre, one will be added to the left of the curling club door. A second disabled parking spot will be added at the entrance to the arena.

OPP pleased with seat belt campaign

The following report was compiled by the Haliburton Highlands Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Haliburton County Buckles up

On October 2, the Haliburton Highlands Detachment participated in "Operation Impact", a one day seatbelt awareness and enforcement program. Results of the program are as follows:

Vehicles checked	342
Charges laid	2
Warnings given	3
Percentage of Seatbelt Use	99 per cent

In comparison, the Haliburton, Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit also participated in a "Seatbelt Challenge" on October 2. Between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. Community Police Support volunteers positioned themselves at the intersection of Highway 35 and Main Street, Minden. Their observations yielded the following results:

Vehicles checked	367
Drivers not wearing seatbelts	15
Percentage of using seatbelt	96%

"The results show that Haliburton County drivers appear to be buckling up," Staff Sgt. Robert Walli of the Haliburton Highlands Detachment said. He also reminded everyone that although the Seatbelt Campaign ended October 16, officers will continue random vehicle RIDE spot checks throughout the year.

"Keep up the good work," he said

Phone survey

During the next few months, the Haliburton Highlands Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, with the assistance of community volunteers, will be initiating a telephone survey.

The survey, entitled Policing for Results, has been designed by the OPP general headquarters. It is being implemented in every community patrolled by the OPP in Ontario. The survey has been designed to identify the specific needs and perceptions of the police service.

The results of the survey will assist the Haliburton Highlands Detachment Commander in identifying the needs in the community. Programs can then be designed and implemented in order to fulfill the specific needs involving policing in Haliburton County.

If you receive a telephone call from one of the volunteers it is important to understand the following:

- Your phone number has been randomly selected from a computer program including telephone exchanges in our area.

- The volunteer does not have access to your name or address, nor will they ask for it.

- The survey takes approximately 10 minutes and we would appreciate your input if you have the time.

If you have any questions or comments about the survey, please contact Constable Laura Ostler at 286-1431.

Break and Enter in Glamorgan Township

On October 9, Haliburton OPP investigated a break and enter at a cottage on Bear Lake Road in Glamorgan Township. The investigation revealed that the cottage had been broken into sometime since Labour Day weekend. It appeared that a door to the cottage had been kicked in.

Stolen from the location were a Pioneer CD player, a Sony colour TV, a Sony receiver, a Sony VCR, a JBL speaker system and bottles of rum and vodka. The total value of the items is estimated to be over $4000. Anyone with information regarding this or any other incident is asked to call the Haliburton Highlands OPP at 286-1431 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-563-8477.

Musical high

Dance instructor Terri Matthews, centre, leads high school students through a practise session as they prepared for the auditions for next spring's musical production. Following the group training, the students performed their dance auditions in groups of four and their acting and singing auditions individually. The high school will be presenting the fun-filled teen production of Grease in April of next year. Two weeks ago the casting was announced. See article below for details.

Even the principal is involved

Students get ready for Grease

The cast of this year's high school production of the musical Grease contained a couple of surprises when it was announced two weeks ago by drama teacher Darrell Dobson.

Among the list of players were two teachers who volunteered to be a part of the production. HHSS principal and avid football fan Gary Brohman will play the role of Coach while science teacher Walter Tose will be Johnny Casino.

The lead roles of Sandy and Danny Zucko will be played by Kate Campbell and Ryan Dawson.

Grease is a love story set in a high school in the late 1950's. Filled with lively music and lots of dancing it is a fun-filled look at the trials and tribulations of being a teenager. With the school providing the central focus, the plot line also follows the characters to a burger joint, football games, pyjama party, drive-in and the high school prom.

Members of the ensemble of singers and dancers: Amelia Ambridge, Margaret Berube, Sarah Bloomfield, Carrie Feir, Kate Folds, Greg Forgrave, Adrienne Ginit, Abby Hagerman, Katherine Hagerman, Helen Harris, Danielle LeBlanc, Heather Little, Jen Minto, Cheryl Ripley, and Joanne Varty.

Ann Raback will be the stage manager with Amanda Robinson as Assistant Stage Manager.

Business Profile

HALIBURTON HIGHLANDS COMPLETE BUSINESS DIRECTORY

The Internet provides businesses with many interesting opportunities. This newest medium allows any business to communicate with the whole world, to tell everyone about its goods or services, to promote its features and provide an attractive, visual and interactive presence. For those with goods to sell, the internet is a way of reaching consumers with direct sales presentations, which today can mean increased sales opportunities.

The Times OnLine family of websites is doing just that for many businesses in the Highlands and beyond. Building on the popularity of our own site, with thousands of visits each week, we are able to alert consumers to the presence of other business resources in the area, businesses with goods and services of interest to people who have already shown an interest in the Highlands by visiting the Times OnLine (mindentimes.on.ca) site. One of the exciting features of the web is that wherever you locate your business information, it is accessible from anywhere in the world. The Times OnLine site provides the most comprehensive and entertaining gateway to the Highlands. If you want to reach people with an interest in this part of the world, this is the place on the web to be.

Interestingly, one of the most popular features of the multifaceted Times OnLine website is the Haliburton Highlands Complete Business Directory (<http://www.mindentimes.on.ca/CrossRoads/Directory/DirectoryIndex.htm>). Created over three years ago in conjunction with the Haliburton Highlands Development Corporation, the business directory lists every commercial enterprise operating within the coverage area. That listing is absolutely free. Every day the Haliburton Highlands Complete Business Directory is used by individuals in the Highlands and around the world to learn more about the businesses operating in the area.

The directory lists all businesses alphabetically and by categories. A few quick clicks of the mouse can place an array of business services before the viewer, listing the individual mailing addresses, phone and fax numbers, email and website addresses.

Many businesses have realized the value of this service and have enhanced their business directory listing. For just $25 a year, individual listings become more visible and provide additional information. These "Preferred Listings" appear with colour backgrounds, larger type is used to make the business features stand out from the crowd and a descriptive paragraph outlining the services offered is provided. The listing can be further enhanced with hot links to the business website and email address. Many businesses also purchase extra listings in addition to the free one, giving them a presence in other important business categories.

The Haliburton Highlands Complete Business Directory currently has over one thousand listings with more being added on a regular basis. The directory is also monitored on a regular basis to ensure accuracy of the information provided. With such a large list and the fluidity of the local business community, it is a challenge to keep up with all changes. To help, we ask businesses to check their listing at (<http://www.mindentimes.on.ca/CrossRoads/Directory/DirectoryIndex.htm>).

If there is a need to update your listing please fax the information to 705-286-4768, or use the convenient email form accessible from every page of the directory. We also invite you to let us know if you wish to have your business stand out from the crowd. A preferred listing is only $25/year with additional features and listings also available at a nominal annual fee.

Take advantage of this great service and enhance your own presence on the world wide web. For more information about the service the Times OnLine and the Haliburton Highlands Complete Business Directory can offer your business, call today (705-286-1288) and ask for Gregg, Autumn, Chris or Jack. Let us show you how you can be a part of this exciting new business service.

Throne Speech addresses country's concerns

I am writing to you today from the lobby of the House of Commons, on the third sitting day of the second session, of the thirty-sixth Parliament of Canada.

Over the course of the summer, I took the opportunity to talk and to meet with many individuals in this riding. Their ideas, comments and criticisms have provided me with a greater understanding of the needs facing the people of Haliburton-Victoria-Brock. With this in mind, I am pleased to be back in the nation's capital to begin putting their suggestions to practical use.

In addition to Parliament reconvening, the past few days are significant for another reason. On Tuesday, October 12th, Canada's new Governor General, her Excellency the Right Honourable Adrienne Clarkson, delivered the Speech from the Throne. This speech, delivered on behalf of the Queen, outlined the path that the Government of Canada intends to take during this session. I was very pleased to see that the Governor General underscored the need for a continuation of a sound fiscal policy, including tax reduction and national debt retirement.

In addition to fiscal responsibility, the speech outlined a pledge to reinvest and to redirect resources into areas that have faced difficulties over the past few years. This included an increased commitment to health services development in rural and remote locations of the country; improvements to environmental concerns; intensified investment in areas of particular social concern (e.g. homelessness, poverty and child welfare); technological research and; infrastructure development required to promote both international and domestic trade.

I was also pleased to hear that the government has recommitted itself to the battle against crime. Specifically, the areas of concern included; youth justice; RCMP powers and jurisdictional authority and; border monitoring and inspections.

International relations and trade were also mentioned in the speech. Human security, especially that of the world's children, is to be a paramount concern in all initiatives undertaken by the Government of Canada. This would include a continued drive to improve the human rights records of our major trading partners.

In conclusion, I applaud the general objectives contained within the Throne Speech. As the government unveiled a rather full legislative agenda, I look forward to the weeks and months to come. With this being said, I would invite and encourage you, to contact my office with your thoughts on the Throne Speech.

To contact your Member of Parliament concerning this article or any other subject please write to: 325 East Block, House of Commons Ottawa, ON K1A 0A6 No postage is required.

Ottawa report

by John O'Reilly, MP

Cabaret comes to the Highlands

Can't get to the city to enjoy an entertaining night out?

The solution to that dilemma comes to the Highlands this weekend. The Haliburton Highlands Concert Series presents its annual Cabaret evening at the Haliburton Legion Hall, Sunday. This enjoyable night out is always a popular event with seats selling rapidly.

This year the Cabaret features three performers: musician Guy Few is a talented soloist, trumpet player, pianist and actor; Joseph Petric will delight the audience with his accordion virtuosity; actor and soprano Maria Thorburn completes the list of talented entertainers. The program includes an eclectic selection of music, described by the organizers as offering, "everything from Piaf to Brel."

The Cabaret is held at the Legion Hall to allow a more casual, night club setting. The audience is seated at decorated tables throughout the room with light refreshments available.

Tickets, at $25 per person, are available from Lourene Scott (457-1712). Tables can be reserved for the evening. The show starts at 7:30 p.m.

Stanhope council backs Wave of Silence

The following report is a summary of items discussed at the October 13 meeting of the Stanhope Municipal Council.

Council supports Wave of Silence

Council approved the Minden Legion's request for support of the two minute Wave of Silence on Remembrance Day. The goal of the Wave of Silence is to have everyone and everything silent at 11 a.m. in memory of those Canadians who gave their lives in times of warfare during the past century. Deputy Reeve Murray Daniels noted that council had always conducted a moment of silence on Remembrance Day.

Cold spring improvements

Councillors reviewed a sketch by Louis Trepanier, detailing possible improvements to the cold spring on Highway 118.

CIRCUS TREATS: Carleigh and Tanner Warburton made sure they had all the goodies, before they entered the big top at the circus which was in Minden on October 7. The appearance of the Starr Bros. Circus was sponsored by the Minden Fire Department.

"I have a lot of mixed feelings on this," said Eleanor Harrison. She said that some shrubbery would be a "nice touch", but placing garbage cans on the property would only encourage roadside dumping. Council agreed that the area did not have enough space to accommodate a picnic area as well.

Concerns over flood plain construction

By-law officer James Moore informed council about some property concerns on the shore of the Gull River, between Grass and Maple Lake. The owners have asked, even though the area is an environmental protection zone, to build on the land.

Common policies being created for board

The following report is a summary of items discussed at the October 12 meeting of the Trillium Lakelands District School Board.

New policies to be created

In an effort to blend the policies of the three former school boards, the Trillium Lakelands District School Board is in the process of creating new policies, relating to their teacher evaluation, transportation and the closure of schools. These policies will not be in place until well into 2000, as committees will have to review existing policies, create new, more appropriate policies and have them approved by the board. Superintendent Paul Doiron mentioned that the school closure policy is not related to the motion to consider the closure of Ryde Public School in Gravenhurst.

Trillium Lakelands fashion statement

Evelyn Brown reported that the school board has received its new sweatshirts and t-shirts, that will be available for purchase from the board. As well, it was noted that there were now pins available to staff in all schools and learning centres in the district. The new pins are aimed at creating an identity for the board as well as to thank staff. The pins are to be distributed, before Christmas, by the trustees.

Members' Show opens

The annual display of work created by members of the Agnes Jamieson Gallery opened this past week at the gallery in Minden. The eclectic display, in a wide variety of media, is always a popular end of the season event for the gallery. Visitors will be delighted with the display and even occasionally surprised by the "hidden" talent in our community. There are close to 60 entries in the show including paintings, sculptures, wood carvings and miniatures, weaving, knitting, photography and more. Visitors are asked to help select the "Best of the Show" by voting for their favourites. The winners will be announced at the close of the show, Saturday, October 30. Two of the early visitors to the show, Anne Richmond, left, of Moore Falls, and Yvonne Workman of Port Hope examine some of the many pieces on display. The gallery is open Tuesday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

WATCH OUT WHEN WORKING UNDER POWER LINES

Stanhope's finest roll up their sleeves

Firefighters ready to be needed

(from page 19)

Reeve Eleanor Harrison said that she was concerned about this, as the area is on a flood plain. An environmental study would have to be conducted at the owner's expense. It would not be inexpensive. Other members of council agree that the construction proposal was not a sound idea.

New Year's Party plans going well

Councillor Tom Gardner reported the planned Stanhope New Year's Eve festivities were going well and that ticket sales were booming. There are 60 tickets available for couples and already 40 have been sold. It was also noted that the Stanhope Christmas party is to be held on December 4.

Fire Chief's Report

Stanhope Firefighters will be taking an ounce of prevention this winter, as they will be taking advantage of the health unit's flu shot campaign and will be protecting themselves against the flu. Chief John Hogg stated that he was unable to give the Health Unit specific numbers on how many will be receiving the shot at this time. Some of the firefighters are a little squeamish when it comes to rolling up their sleeves for inoculations. "We have people who will run into burning buildings but when it comes to needles, there is hesitation," said Hogg.

It was reported that there were six calls this past month, compared to nine the same time the previous year. This brings the total calls for this year to 89, compared to 77 of last year.

Ladies Auxiliary hosts weekly tea

Hello everyone, it's time to sit down, put your feet up and catch up on our news of the past few days.

Our tea party last Thursday, (October 7) was very much enjoyed with our host, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Minden Legion. We thank the ladies for being with us and bringing such delicious breads, fruits and cheeses. The following morning we had the pleasure of Jack and Ruth Worthington's company. Ruth played the organ as the piano is undergoing repairs at this time. That afternoon we tucked into doughnuts and coffee served up in the main lounge. The auditorium was not available as everyone was preparing for the sale to be held on the following day. Needless to say there was no Happy Hour that day.

According to the powers that be, the sale held here on Saturday was a huge success. It was not to start until 8 a.m. but as soon the doors opened the bargain hunters were already here. In fact we were finished by 1:1 a.m. and everyone seemed happy with the results. We want to thank the community once again for its support.

We were saddened to hear of the death of Glenn Austin on Saturday, October 9. Mr. Austin was in his 92nd year. Our condolences go out to his family and friends.

A good crowd gathered on Sunday afternoon to enjoy Kim Watson and her gospel music. Pastor Dan was here to introduce her. The music was lovely and we hope we can have her visit us again sometime. Many thanks to you Kim. Afterwards we sat down to a delicious Thanksgiving dinner complete with pumpkin pie. Our thanks to the dietary staff for a great meal. Thanksgiving Day was very quiet with just a few visitors in, but we enjoyed the quiet and just relaxed.

Pastor Dan Millard joined us for Tuesday morning Chapel during which we held a memorial for Pat Clarke. Lula Ferrill joined us dressed beautifully as we helped celebrate her 101 years. Our congratulations to you Lula!

We were expecting the Happy Wanderers yesterday afternoon to entertain us, however they had to cancel. We hope they can reschedule in the near future. In their place we had fun with some bingo.

For our tea party today we are expecting the Minden W.I. We are glad to see that the sun is shining after our storms yesterday. As we write this we are in another shuffle. The construction crew is working with a huge crane and we have to be safely away from the area they are concentrating on. Oh well one of these days the shuffling back and forth will be in the past and we will have fun remembering the different upsets we experienced.

It seems we have run out of news, but before we go we must welcome Irene Strickland who has joined us for a few days respite care.

So to all of you, have a safe and happy week and we will talk to you again.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450)

The storm is swarming around in all its diversity. First there is a torrential downpour mixed with hail; then a bit of sunshine; then the darkness descends again and more rain and wind swirl across. I am thinking it is a good day to go to the Members Show at the Art Gallery; the closing show of the year. What a great choice!! As I was viewing the amazing works of our members, the rain beat down on the roof, providing a 'moody' background for all that talent. I have always envied that kind of talent or that gift which artists and artisans have or are given, which adds another dimension to their lives.

Creativity fascinates me. There certainly was a great deal of it on display at the Agnes Jamieson. There are too many artists/artisans to mention individually, but there are works there of our friends and neighbours, interspersed with the works of the well known names of our area.

I must say though that I was looking at two interesting paintings, recognizing one of them and fascinated by the other, looked at the artist's name: Carol Jones, Carol Jones, CAROL JONES!!! How wonderful of you to offer your art, Carol!! The two paintings looked wonderful there: they fit right in!! You are able to see Carol's paintings and all the other works at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery until October 30, Tuesday to Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The storm is also adding some excitement to these days after Thanksgiving. This year, in addition to the customary let-down feeling, is the disbelief that the 'season' is over. So many people are commenting on how they can't believe it is over. It went by too fast. I talked to a friend in Ohio today who cottages up here and she said the same thing. Putting the docks away, the boat in storage, closing up, finishing all those end of season tasks, was upon them much too fast. I find it interesting that so many of us are feeling this way. What's going on? I think it is 'bigger' than taking deep breathes as I suggested last week.

Also last week, the item about the cauliflowers was written before the story had unfolded and clarification is needed. The cauliflowers were delivered and they were distributed by the Minden Food Bank. There were so many cauliflowers, the Food Bank couldn't handle them all and found a willing recipient of some of them, in Hyland Crest. John Hicks, the man who so kindly picked them up, drove them up here and delivered them, wanted them to go to those in need, such as to the Three Cs in Haliburton, but communications didn't work out this time for that to happen. In the future, when John brings more fresh food out of the kindness of his heart and out of concern for his community, it will get to the people for whom he wants it designated. Thank you John!!

The Badminton Club is starting up today, October 18!! The Club plays at Archie Stouffer Public School every Monday evening from 7:45 until 9:45 p.m. The fee for the year is $30. For fun, fitness and fellowship, come on out!! For more information, please call Lois Rigney at 286-1765.

The Minden Legion 636 Seniors held a Quilt Draw on October 6 and it was won by Maurice Winterflood!! Interesting!!

I hope we have dried out a bit by now and can look forward to a good week. See you here next time!!

The Christmas Studio

.....located in Ingoldsby on the South Kashagawigamog Lake Rd., has been retired, after 9 very successful years. During that time, over 40 artisans participated and had a festive outlet for their original and unique creations. Despite being rejected by the Studio Tour organizers & ignored by the local papers, we became one of the most popular studios to visit between Labour Day and Thanksgiving in the area.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all the participants & special thanks to: Gladys McAfee, Heather Smith, Debbie Turner, Beryl & John Mackey, Linda McGillivray, Violet Smith, Don Betts, Helen Gillis, George Schwab and Cheryl Lafferty for their support & enthusiasm, over the years.

I also thank the hundreds of shoppers, visitors, friends and neighbours, who visited The Christmas Studio, put-up with traffic jams, and always offered positive comments & encouragement.

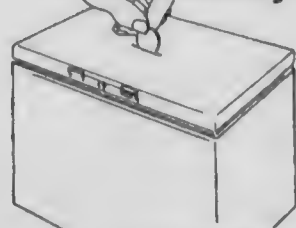

My biggest thanks goes to my husband, John, for encouraging me to pursue this creative adventure and for being so agreeable to opening our home to the public.

I thank all of you for helping me to attain a goal and achieving success far beyond my expectations. Best wishes for a Merry Christmas!

IN MEMORIAM

MORRIS

In loving memory of our Grandfather and Papa we lost on October 22, 1993.

*Memories are a treasure time cannot take away,
So may we be surrounded by happy ones today.*

May all the love and tenderness of golden days and years well spent,

Come back today to fill our hearts with beauty and content.

And may we walk down memory lane and meet the ones we love,

For while we cannot see them, they'll be watching from above...

So, for their sake, be happy and show them that their love,

Has proven strong and big enough to reach down from above.

Loved and forever missed by

is the kind of caring support that all of us would want for ourselves and our loved ones when faced with a life threatening illness. Hospice is about little deeds of kindness like a ride to the doctor or a walk in the park. It's about showing you care enough about other people to brighten their day with a call or a visit. At SIRCH, we train people to be volunteer Hospice Companions. - Next training begins the first week of November. Call Sue Shikaze at SIRCH 457-1742 ext. 24
